11th July 2023 The Participation Party Exhibition

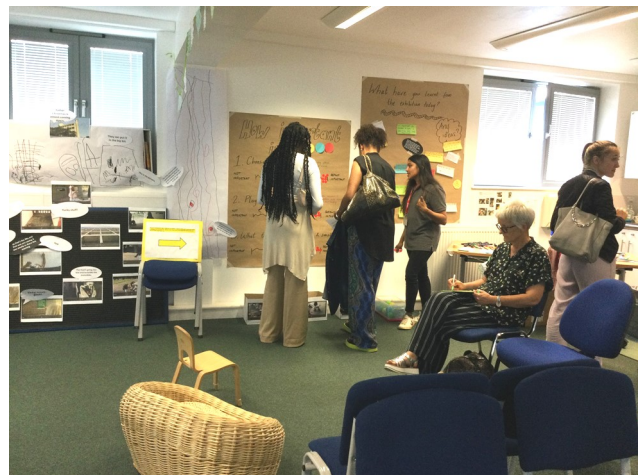

This term we have worked with Dr Penny Lawrence and Roehampton University on capturing children's responses to their local area. Not only were the Eastwood Nursery School Researchers able to identify what was important to them, they were also developing an understanding of their own environment.

Reflecting and enjoying the exhibition

Activities in the classes

Beech Class

A new cooker has been kindly donated.

Sally with some of the children made a delicious banana bread.

Chestnut Class

We have had great fun this term exploring lots of water play. We have filled and emptied different containers using a variety of items. We have also enjoyed listening to new action songs and developing our mark making skills.

Maple Class

We have been constructing with art straws, pipe cleaners and masking tape. This has extended our motor skills and having a plan.

We have explored the natural materials on a large scale. Tipping, pouring and filling different size containers.
